

UNIVERSIDAD
PABLO DE
OLAVIDE
SEVILLA

The International Center

2013-2014
Academic Year

Seville
Spain

[www. upo.es/
intl](http://www.upo.es/intl)

Hispanic Studies Program

The Hispanic Studies Program is designed for students wishing to spend a semester or a year abroad while continuing their undergraduate degree. While it offers advanced courses in Spanish, it also caters to the needs of those with little or no background in Spanish by offering classes taught in English in many subject areas. A placement exam at the beginning of the program determines the language level of each student. Courses are 3 U.S. credits unless otherwise noted.

The list of courses which follows is for both the fall and spring semesters unless otherwise noted. Course offerings are subject to sufficient enrollment. Students with excellent Spanish language skills may enroll in a maximum of two regular university courses per semester.

Those students who take 5 classes in Spanish and fulfill certain course requirements may request a Diploma of Hispanic Studies. More information may be found on our website under the Hispanic Studies Program and "Diploma".

LIST OF COURSES:

History of Art and Cinema

ART 313E History of Spanish Art

A survey of major works of art from prehistoric times through the present. Painting, sculpture and architecture are examined in the context of their time and place in history. Special attention is given to the art and culture of Seville. Conducted in English.

ART 323 Historia del Arte Español: desde el Renacimiento hasta el S.XX (History of Spanish Art: From the Renaissance to the 20th Century)

A survey of major works of art from the Renaissance period through the 20th century. Painting, sculpture and architecture are examined in the context of their time and place in history. Special attention is given to the art and culture of Seville. Conducted in Spanish.

ART 330 Historia del Cine Español en Democracia (History of Spanish Cinema during the Democracy)

Spanish cinema undergoes an important transformation following the death of Franco in 1975 and the ensuing democracy. During these last 30 years, Spanish cinema has become a stronger player on the European scene and has gained recognition which was unthinkable only a few decades ago. This course will analyze the historical evolution of this period as well as introduce the student to Spanish films up to the present time. Conducted in Spanish.

Biology / Chemistry

BIO 209E Anatomy and Physiology II

4 U.S. credits with lab - Fall semester only

This course provides an anatomical and physiological overview of human structure and function. Human gross anatomy and histology is related to cell, tissue, and organ level physiology for each of the major body systems. Topics include the musculoskeletal and central nervous systems as well as cardiovascular, renal and endocrine systems. Conducted In English. * A previous course in Anatomy and Physiology required.

BIO 242E Microbiology

4 U.S. credits with lab - Fall semester only

This course is an introduction for students to basic concepts and unifying principles of microbiology. The goal of this course is to provide the student with an understanding of the general concepts in microbiology, as well as inform about the general practices used clinically to identify and treat the most common infectious agents. The course is oriented towards the clinical aspects of microbiology, but does introduce historically significant discoveries to convey important topics. The labs are designed to familiarize students with aseptic methods of microbiological techniques and with its applications in clinical and environmental microbiology. In English.

BIO 361E Biochemistry

A look at the structure of proteins, carbohydrates, and lipids; enzyme catalysis and principles of metabolism, including glycolysis, the citric acid cycle, and oxidative phosphorylation. A comparison will also be made between English and Spanish scientific expressions. In English.

CHE 210E Organic Chemistry I

5 U.S. credits with lab - Fall semester only

Organic chemistry is the chemistry of the compounds of carbon. CHE 210 is the first half of a comprehensive one-year course suitable for science majors. The first semester course includes structural and functional aspects of saturated and unsaturated hydrocarbons with various heteroatom functionalities. Discussion focuses on the mechanistic basis for organic compound reactivity. First semester laboratories concentrate on the basic techniques and procedures used in organic syntheses and separations, including microscale techniques. In addition, modern analytical techniques (e.g. infrared spectroscopy) used in the identification of organic compounds will be discussed. Conducted In English.

CHE 211E Organic Chemistry II

5 U.S. credits with lab - Spring semester only

A continuation of CHE 210 with focus on complex chemical reactions and syntheses utilizing fundamental principles. The study of mechanistic functional group chemistry will be a primary focus. Second semester laboratory extends previously learned macro- and micro-scale techniques to more complex systems and explores chemistry discussed in the lecture portion of the course. In addition, modern analytical techniques (e.g. nuclear magnetic resonance spectroscopy, UV-visible spectroscopy, and mass spectrometry) used in the identification of organic compounds will be discussed. Conducted in English. * A previous CHEM 210E course required.

ECOL 320 Ecological Systems

This course examines ecology and its large scale patterns and processes, both from an Iberian general perspective, the elements of time and space in the ecosystems, regulatory elements and the application of ecological principles in solving environmental problems. Conducted in English.

ENV 345E Coastal Environments

This course offers a multidisciplinary approach to the study of coastal and marine environments, analyzing aspects such as the physical environment, coastal processes and coastal planning and management. The objective of the course is to provide a wide overview of the complexity that characterizes coastal systems and its management. The course builds on concepts that range from morphodynamic and hydrodynamic processes that govern these environments, a review of existing techniques and analytical tools for its study and modeling, as well as an overview of

Would you recommend the program at Pablo de Olavide University to others?

"Yes. Everyone was very helpful and nice and I had great teachers who taught me a lot while still being relaxed and having fun since we're studying abroad."

"Yes, because it was a great way to continue your degree while gaining worldly experiences."

the main initiatives on Integrated Coastal Management and spatial planning. In addition, a set of practical sessions will be carried out to provide hands on experience for students in the use of techniques and tools for understanding coastal issues during a trip to the coast of Andalusia specifically designed for this course. Conducted in English.

Business

BUS 325E International Marketing
(Marketing Internacional)

An introduction to international marketing. Topics include analytical techniques used in international market research, determining prices and distribution channels in an international context, marketing across linguistic and cultural borders. Conducted in English and Spanish.

BUS 334E International Management

The topics to be covered include the process of internationalization of companies, alternative forms of international business and international alliances (exports, franchises, subsidiaries, licences, strategic alliances, joint ventures...). The class also looks at environmental factors, globalization, management functions, human resources and diversity, different organizational cultures and the role of strategic business management in a globalized world. Conducted in English.

BUS 346E International Finance
(Finanzas Internacionales)

The objective of the course is to introduce the student to the complex world of international finance. Topics will include the increasing globalization of financial markets, international and European monetary systems, foreign exchange markets, direct and indirect international investment. Conducted in English. Offered in Spanish when minimum enrollment is met.

Communication

COM/SOC 320 Comunicación Intercultural
(Intercultural Communication)

Economics

ECON/POL 321E The European Union

The course will analyze the initial motives behind the creation of the European Community and its subsequent development into the European Union with a unique institutional structure. There will be a study of the EU's key common policies - Economic and Monetary Union, Competition, Agriculture, External Trade etc - and their global effects; paying special attention to E.U.-U.S. relations. Conducted in English.

ECON 331E The Global Economy

 A previous economics course is highly recommended.*

The course will explore the main debates surrounding the nature, effects and attempted management of the global economy; paying special attention to the role of international organizations such as the IMF and WTO, as well as moves towards economic regional integration (EU, NAFTA and Mercosur). Conducted in English.

ECON 364 La Unión Europea y la Economía del Euro (The European Union and the Economy of the Euro)

This course aims to introduce the student to the functioning of the European economy. While it focuses mainly on the economy, it also examines the historical, political and social aspects which are key to understanding the European process of integration. Conducted in Spanish.

and culture, with special emphasis on events that have marked Andalusia more profoundly from the dawn of history to the sixteenth century. Conducted in English.

HIS 341E Early Modern and Modern Spanish History: From Isabella and Ferdinand to the Euro (1450-the present)

Spring semester only

The main goal in this course is to give students an overview of Spain's history over the past 500 years, with special emphasis on events that have marked Andalusia more profoundly. Additionally, we will study and analyze different trends and phenomena of modern day Spain, along with some traditions that still hold in our time. Field trips, projection of slides and videos will all be key elements in this course helping the student to have a clearer perception of each period. Conducted in English.

History

HIS 312 History of Spain

An overview of Spanish history from Roman times to the modern era: The Arab invasion and the Christian reconquest, Spain's monarchy, Spain's society and identity from 1936 to the present. The role of the church, women, social classes, and nationalism will be discussed. Conducted in English.

HIS 322 Historia Contemporánea de España (Contemporary History of Spain)

The course will present the main historic processes from the 18th century to the present which have been crucial in shaping present day Spain. The course will examine the creation of its democracy, the genesis of the nationalistic problem and the economic articulation of Spain in the international context. Conducted in Spanish.

HIS 340E Ancient and Medieval Spanish History: From Altamira to Isabella and Ferdinand (Prehistory to 1500)

Fall semester only

The main goal in this course is to give students an overview of Spain's history

HIS 360 El Mundo Mediterráneo y España (The Mediterranean World and Spain)

The objective of this course is to investigate the intimate relationship between the Mediterranean world and Spain during the creation of the Spanish culture (from pre-history until the Arab invasion). Several fieldtrips to places of historic interest will be an important part of this course. Conducted in Spanish.

HIS/SOC 362 Esclavitud en América Latina y el Caribe (Slavery in Latin America and the Caribbean)

The course aims to study the origins of inequality, racial prejudice and the poverty that a large portion of the Afro-American communities in Latin America and the Caribbean currently live in. It examines how some cultural patterns of African origin persist: music, clothing and such religious beliefs as witchcraft and voodoo. It also offers a global perspective of the phenomenon of slavery, from the introduction of the first slaves to the abolition of this "peculiar institution". Conducted in Spanish.

Literature

LIT 327 Panorama de la Literatura Latinoamericana 1 (Pre-1820) (Panorama of Latin American Literature) (Pre-1820)

Fall semester only

This course is an overview of Latin American writings from the pre-Hispanic period until the eve of the Independence movements in the 1820s. It includes literary works in poetry and non-fiction, such as the chronicles of conquest. It also features a selection of literary works (including prose, drama, and essay) that have received recognition from specialists and the general reading public for being the most outstanding in Latin America. Conducted in Spanish.

LIT 328 Panorama de Literatura Latinoamericana 2 (Post-1820) (Panorama of Latin American Literature 2) (Post-1820)

Spring semester only

This course is an overview of Latin American writings from the Independence era to the present. It includes literary works in poetry and non-fiction, including novel, short story, poetry, and essay. One major objective is to achieve a knowledge of how these works fit into the framework of Latin America's cultural and intellectual history. Conducted in Spanish.

LIT 348 La idea de España a Través de la Literatura (Imaginerias of Spain through literature)

The role of literature has been crucial in the articulation of the different imaginaries of Spain. In this course, we will analyze how reflections on the Arab legacy and the intellectual debates about bullfighting and flamenco have been used in literary works as a means to represent the complexity of Spain's cultural identity. We will focus on the creation of la España castiza versus la España heterodoxa and how this confrontation has been articulated through la España colorista of the Romantic travellers, la España negra, la España de la República y del exilio, la España del franquismo, la España de la transición, and la España de la democracia. Paintings and films, as well as philosophical, historical, and political essays will also be included. Conducted In Spanish.

LIT 365 Literatura Española Contemporánea (Siglos XIX y XX) (Contemporary Spanish Literature of the 19th & 20th Century)

This course analyzes Spanish literature of the 19th and 20th centuries and specifically the literary movements of Romanticism, Modernism, "La Generación del 98", "La Generación del 27" and the most current trends in Spanish literature. Students will study the literary aspects as they relate to cultural and historic events which influence or have influenced the various literary trends. Conducted in Spanish.

LIT 370 El Cuento Latinoamericano del Siglo XX (Latin American Short Stories of the 20th Century)

This course analyzes the beginnings of the the short story in Latin America in the 20th century and its subsequent development, revising the different styles and literary movements which take place over time and the extraordinary contribution of women writers to this genre. The complex social, political and cultural reality will be studied as it is reflected in the Latin American short story. The stories of Horacio Quiroga, Modernism, "Criollismo", Magic Realism and the most recent literary tendencies will be examined. Conducted in Spanish.

LIT 371 Mujer y Literatura Española (XIX-XX) (Women & Spanish Literature (XIX-XX Centuries))

Spring semester only
This course analyzes the role of women in Spanish literature in the 19th and 20th centuries as well as the literary works written specifically by women during both centuries. The role of women in literature of previous centuries will also be examined. It is mainly during Romanticism that women begin to take an active role in literature and by the middle of the 20th century women have the liberty to express themselves and their vision of reality through the world of fiction. Conducted in Spanish.

LIT 374 Literatura Española: el Siglo de Oro. El Quijote (Spanish Literature: the Spanish Golden Age. El Quijote)

Spring semester only
The objective of this course is to study the

Students Comments:

ART 323 History of Spanish Art: From the Renaissance to the 20th Century (Rafael Rodríguez-Varo)

"I really loved Rafa. He's really passionate about art. Now I'm even more interested in Spanish Art History".

BIO 361E Biochemistry (Carlos Santos)

"I am very impressed with the extent to which Carlos could teach such a difficult subject in his second language! He was a great teacher and he cared for his students. He really wanted us to learn!"

ECON 331E The Global Economy (Jonathan Pass)
"Jonathan was very insightful and knew the subject very well. I definitely learned a lot from his class."

LIT 327 Panorama of Latin American Literature (María José García Rufo)

"María José is very helpful and nice. She's very knowledgeable about her subject and always offered out-of-class help. I love her."

Hispanic Studies Program

masterpiece of Spanish Literature: Don Quijote. Cervantes's novel is considered to be the first modern novel, and its influence in later literary productions is still present in the creative process for most authors. The course will analyze the structural, thematic and stylistic characteristics of the novel, and it will present the study of the novel as a cultural product, so as to present an in depth study of Cervantes's world. Conducted in Spanish.

Political Science

POL 361 Actualidad Latinoamericana: Prensa y Cine (Current Affairs in Latin America: Press & Cinema)

This class aims to promote active class discussion while increasing the student's knowledge of the social, political and cultural life of present-day Latin America. Teaching material will include top stories from the Latin American press as well as Latin American films. Conducted in Spanish.

POL 363E U.S. - European Relations Since World War II

The objective of this course is to examine, first, the tensions which arose between the states on both sides of the Atlantic following the defeat of Germany in 1945 and second, its transformation into economic, political and military cooperation. This cooperation has assured the stability of liberal democracies and consolidates the dependence of the Old Continent on a strengthened United States. Conducted in English.

POL 366 Relaciones del Mundo Latino y los Estados Unidos (Relations between the U.S. and the Hispanic World)

Spring semester only

The objective of the course is to give the student a global perspective of the relations between the United States, Spain and Latin America throughout history. The course will also study the series of problems which have shaped the character of interamerican relations, the mechanisms of economic integration and its repercussions in the socio-political sphere. Conducted in Spanish.

POL 372E Contemporary Spanish Politics

This class introduces students to the contemporary Spanish political system. We will study the process of the transition to democracy from an authoritarian regime. With the adoption of the new Spanish constitution, we will look at political institutions, political parties, autonomous regions, the monarchy, the Catholic Church, and the military. Special emphasis will be placed on changing socioeconomic factors, nationalism, immigration and terrorism. Conducted in English.

POL/HIS 352E The Road to Democracy in Portugal, Greece and Spain

During the second half of the 1970's, Southern Europe inaugurated the "third wave of democratization." This course approaches that crucial period of Portuguese, Greek and Spanish history with a comparative methodology. The course will analyze the nature of authoritarian regimes, as well as the transition to and consolidation of democracies. Conducted in English.

Social Work

SOWK 310 Programas de Lucha contra la Pobreza y Exclusión Social en la Unión Europea (Programs Aimed to Fight Poverty and Social Exclusion in the European Union)

Spring semester only

A study of the present state of poverty and social exclusion in the European Union with special emphasis on Spain and Andalusia. The course looks at social action initiatives on the individual and group level and experimental programs and their effectiveness. Conducted in Spanish.

Psychology

PSY 251E Cultural Psychology

Fall semester only

In this globalized world, it is important to understand how individuals in other cultures think, feel, and behave, and to understand the forces, beliefs and motivations that guide their behavior. This course will focus on topics in personality, social, developmental and health psychology, and will encourage an appreciation for the diversity of cultures and how culture influences behavior. Conducted in English.

PSY 255E Social Psychology

Spring semester only

This course will provide an overview of theory and empirical research in social psychology, with topics including: social cognition, the social self, attitudes and persuasion, prejudice and inter-group relations, social influence and intra-group relations, attraction and interpersonal relationships, aggression, and prosocial behavior. Conducted in English.

Sociology

SOC 355 Mujeres en Europa (Women in Europe)

An exploration of the history of European women and gender in the modern era, focusing on women's changing roles in the political, economic, social and intellectual spheres and development of new visions of the family and sexuality. Conducted in Spanish.

Anthropology / Spanish Culture

ANTH 215E Health, Healing and Culture: An Introduction to Medical Anthropology

This course is an introduction to medical anthropology, emphasizing the literature on health and healing in different cultures. The objectives of the course are to understand health and healing in social and cultural context, to compare health, illness and healing in different cultures, and to introduce the theoretical orientations and basic concepts of medical anthropology. Readings illustrate the different theoretical orientations used by medical anthropologists and explore topics such as mental health and illness, healers and healing, disease etiologies, health seeking behavior, child birth across cultures and practical uses for medical anthropology in health care settings. Case studies from Italy, North America, Africa, Europe and Latin America illustrate key concepts. Conducted in English.

SPAN 315E Spanish Civilization and Culture

This course has two main goals: (i) to increase the students' knowledge and appreciation of Spanish culture and its people and (ii) to build and strengthen their intercultural awareness as a result. Focusing mostly on the 20th century, we will explore Spain's diverse heritage through the different factors which constitute its present identity: history, art, economy, social organization, education, dance, music, and folklore. We will also read about and discuss linguistic and cultural variety, regionalism, nationalism, ethnicity and politics. Conducted in English.

SPAN 315 Civilización y Cultura Españolas (Spanish Civilization and Culture)

Spain's multicultural civilization from its Roman roots to the "movida" of post-Franco Spain. Recurrent themes in Spanish national ideology and culture will be examined: Spain as a crossroads of Christian, Jewish and Islamic cultures; linguistic and cultural diversity; regionalism and nationalism; dictatorship and democracy. Conducted in Spanish.

SPAN 319E Spanish Culture and History through Film

The course presents a general introduction to the main aspects of Spanish culture and history through cinematographic representation in various films. The class covers the main social, political, and economic aspects of Spanish life from the beginning of the twentieth century until today, with special emphasis on current affairs. Conducted in English.

SPAN 329E Spanish Culture Up Close

Fall semester only

This course offers a panoramic overview of the sociocultural idiosyncrasy of Spain nowadays. Considering the innovative volunteer experience students will have to take part in as an essential part of the program, special relevance will be given to the study of the management of time, space and interpersonal relations in Spain, within the theoretical framework of intercultural communication studies. Conducted in English.

SPAN/HIS 335E Historical Ties Between Spain and the US

Spring semester only

This course offers a historical overview of the relations between Spain and the United States up to the present day. Starting with the Spanish colonial rule and surviving legacy in the southern and western United States, following with Spain's role during the War of Independence, and ending with the 1898 Spanish-American War and US relations with Franco and democratic Spain, students will become aware of the strong ties that exist between both nations. Conducted In English.

SPAN/CUL 339 Tapas: A Window to Spanish Cuisine and Culture

Food is one of the most important cultural expressions in today's society and the tapa is, possibly, its best example. This course will take place in our kitchen laboratories where we will cook and taste a variety of dishes. Through these dishes, we will discuss the different aspects such as products, producers, history, society,

SPAN 311 Advanced Spanish
"I love Ana Claudio! I have learned more in her classes than in six years studying Spanish in the US"

POL 372E Contemporary Spanish Politics (Jean Baptiste Paul Harguindeguy)
"This professor went out of his way to help students and has made taking this course a very pleasant experience".

HIS 312E History of Spain (Dan Serradilla)
"Dan is a phenomenal teacher who keeps the class engaged with a combination of deep knowledge and wit. He united the themes of Spanish History very effectively".

nutrition, culinary technology, quality criteria, etc. All of these aspects are of vital importance in understanding what tapas represent in Spanish culture. Conducted in Spanish.

SPAN/HIS 346 España Medieval: Cristianos, Judíos y Musulmanes (Medieval Spain: Christians, Jews and Muslims)

The main objective of this course is to offer a panorama of medieval Spanish history (711-1492) and bring the student closer to medieval society and the groups that formed it. The course will examine the medieval legacy and the importance of the contributions of the Arab and Jewish cultures to the history of Spain. The student will also study medieval Seville and the influence of this historic period on its current urban features. Conducted in Spanish.

SPAN/HIS 361 Historia del Flamenco en España: Teoría y Práctica (History of Flamenco in Spain: Theory and Practice)

This course immerses the student in the world of Flamenco and its artistic forms beginning with the geographic, historical and socio-cultural context of its origins. Flamenco's evolution into an artistic professional activity is examined by studying the most well-known Flamenco singers, dancers and guitar players. Students will see and hear the various forms of Flamenco during the practical portion of the course. Conducted in Spanish.

Spanish Language

SPAN 101-102 Español Elemental (Elementary Spanish) 6 U.S. credits

This beginning intensive course is designed for students with little or no Spanish knowledge. Emphasis is on building oral and written communication skills and on acquiring knowledge of the Spanish speaking world. Conducted in Spanish.

SPAN 102 Español Elemental (Elementary Spanish)

This beginning course is designed for students with basic Spanish knowledge. Emphasis is on building oral and written communication skills and on acquiring knowledge of the Spanish speaking world. Conducted in Spanish.

SPAN 112 Laboratorio de Idiomas (Spanish Laboratory) 1 U.S. credit

This one credit course is designed to complement the Elementary Spanish classes and aims to improve oral communication skills. Guided conversations such as role play, theater, etc. will serve to increase language competence. Sessions in the language laboratory will focus on addressing specific pronunciation difficulties. Conducted in Spanish.

SPAN 201 Español Intermedio I (Intermediate Spanish I)

This course is designed for students who have had at least two semesters of university-level Spanish. Emphasis is on expanding vocabulary and building oral and written communication skills as well as acquiring a greater awareness of the Spanish-speaking world. Conducted in Spanish.

SPAN 202 Lectura y Redacción en Español (nivel intermedio) (Spanish Reading & Composition - intermediate level)

Designed for students who have had at least two semesters of university level

Spanish, this course continues developing reading and writing skills through written reports, compositions and class discussions on assigned topics and articles. It also reviews more advanced grammar with the purpose of achieving greater accuracy. Conducted in Spanish.

SPAN 206 Conversación en Español (nivel intermedio) (Spanish Conversation - intermediate level)

The objective of this class is to develop conversational, comprehension and oral interaction skills for students at the intermediate level. The focus is on form in order to attain fluency and effective communication skills. Conducted in Spanish.

SPAN 241 Español Intermedio II (Intermediate Spanish II)

This course is designed for students who have had at least three semesters of university-level Spanish. Emphasis is on expanding vocabulary and building oral and written communication skills as well as acquiring a greater awareness of the Spanish-speaking world. Conducted in Spanish.

SPAN 306 Conversación en español (nivel avanzado) (Spanish Conversation - advanced level)

The objective of this class is to develop conversational, comprehension and oral interaction skills for students at the advanced level with a focus on form to attain fluency and effective communication skills. Conducted in Spanish.

SPAN 311 Español Avanzado I (Advanced Spanish I)

This course is designed for students who have had at least four semesters of university-level Spanish. Emphasis is on applying the skills acquired at the intermediate level to further improve oral and written skills. The methodology applied is communicative and encompasses assignments which include grammar reviews, cultural readings on Spain and debates which require use of practical and communicative vocabulary. Conducted in Spanish.

SPAN 312 Lectura y Redacción en Español (nivel avanzado I) (Spanish Reading & Composition - advanced I level)

Designed for students who have had at least four semesters of university level Spanish, this course continues developing reading and writing skills through written reports, compositions and class discussions on assigned topics and articles. It also reviews more advanced grammar with the purpose of achieving greater accuracy. Conducted in Spanish.

SPAN 336 Pragmática y Comunicación en Español (Spanish Pragmatics and Communication)

In this course students learn and apply basic concepts in pragmatics to verbal and non-verbal communicative acts in Spanish. Students also study related aspects in politeness and miscommunication using Spanish. Conducted in Spanish.

SPAN 351 Español Avanzado II (Advanced Spanish II)

This course is designed for students who have had at least five semesters of university-level Spanish. The course focuses on written and oral expression of Spanish through compositions, oral reports and class discussions. Material for discussion includes literary texts as well as topics of general interest. Emphasis is on interactive language use, vocabulary expansion, and accuracy of expression. Conducted in Spanish.

SPAN 376 Español de Negocios (Spanish for Business)

In this course, students learn the vocabulary and concepts used in oral and written transactions in the business world. Emphasis is placed on increasing vocabulary and using Spanish business terminology in commercial correspondence including letters, job descriptions, advertisements, bank documents, etc. Cultural differences which affect the way business is conducted in Spain and in the U.S. will also be briefly explored. Conducted in Spanish.

SPAN 378 Fonética y Fonología Española (Spanish Phonetics & Phonology)

This course examines the sound system of Spanish and concentrates on improving pronunciation. Emphasis will be placed on the peculiarities of Andalusian Spanish and classwork will include transcriptions and intonation exercises. Conducted in Spanish.

SPAN 381 Traducción Español-Inglés / Inglés-Español (Spanish-English / English-Spanish Translation)

This course provides an introduction to translation from Spanish to English and English to Spanish. Particular attention is given to the linguistic issues involved in translation. Short literary works as well as articles will be translated as a practical part of the course. Special emphasis will be placed on Spanish idioms and their translation. This course is for students with an advanced level of Spanish. Conducted primarily in Spanish.

Students Comments:

SPAN 101 - 102 Elementary Spanish (Estrella Fernández)

"This is one of the best, if not the best teacher I have ever had. She taught us so much and she was the kindest and most helpful instructor. We always had so much fun in her class".

SPAN 315E Spanish Civilization and Culture (Enrique Moreno)

"Enrique is one of my favourite professors throughout my college career. He has a deep understanding of Spain's history and culture, and was always open-minded and receptive to students' opinions in class. Any university would be lucky to have him as part of their staff".

SPAN 382 Técnicas de Interpretación Español-Inglés/Inglés-Español (Spanish-English/English-Spanish Interpretation Techniques)

Spring semester only

This course introduces students to basic theories and modalities of interpreting and provides them training in interpretation techniques from Spanish into English and viceversa in the fields of tourism, health and the judicial system. The course is for students with an advanced level of Spanish and is very practical in nature. Conducted primarily in Spanish.

How to apply

Step 1

Complete all sections of the Application Form, including acceptance of the Terms, Conditions, Cancellation and Refund Policy.

Step 2

Attach the following documents:

- Verified copies of your academic qualifications (university transcript)
- 1 letter of recommendation
- Photocopy of passport (photo page)
- Passport size photo

Step 3

Submit your documents to:

- By email: intl@upo.es

- By post:

Centro Universitario Internacional

Universidad Pablo de Olavide

Autovía A 376, Km1. 41013 Sevilla - España

Step 4

Your application will be reviewed for eligibility and you will be notified.

* Approximate living and study costs

- Text books: 15€ / 30€ per course
- Local Transportation: 40-50€ (per month)
- Single room in shared flat: 250 - 350€ per month (for those students who have not arranged their housing through our Center)
- Food: 300€ per month
- Entertainment: 250€ per month

*Costs are guidelines only, given in euros and subject to change.

Hispanic Studies Program

DATES
	FALL 2013	SPRING 2014
Application deadlines	June 7, 2013	October 18, 2013
Semester starts	September 9	January 27
Semester ends	December 19	May 23
No classes will be held	October 12, November 1, December 6, December 9	February 28, April 14-18, April 28-May, May 1

PROGRAM INFORMATION
	FALL 2013	SPRING 2014
Program fees	1,965 euros	1,965 euros

Minimum GPA required: 2.9

HOUSING INFORMATION (Host family)
	FALL 2013	SPRING 2014
Arrival dates	September 7	January 19
Departure dates	December 21	May 19
Deposit deadline	June 3	November 12
Full payment deadline	August 26	December 20
Housing fees	2,720 euros	2,895 euros

GENERAL INFORMATION
Credit Hours and Transcripts:	Each class is worth 6 ECTS credits (3 U.S. credits) unless noted otherwise. Classes are held Monday through Thursday, with an occasional class or activity on a Friday. Transcripts are issued by Pablo de Olavide University.
Included in program	<ul style="list-style-type: none">* Orientation Session & Welcome Reception* Up to 5 classes (30 ECTS credits / 15 U.S. credits)* 4 cultural/social activities during the semester* Access to computer labs* Access to sports facilities (gym requires extra monthly fee)* Farewell Reception
Class size:	Spanish language classes have a minimum of 8 and a maximum of 16 students per class. All other classes have a minimum of 8 and a maximum of 25 students per class.

University Integration Program (PIU)

A program especially designed for students with highly advanced Spanish language skills who wish to integrate themselves fully into a Spanish university. Students enroll directly in regular classes with Spanish students.

There is also an option of taking courses in English with Spanish students in the business department. This option is open to Business majors only.

Students may select up to five courses from the lists that follow. Students have the option of taking one course (out of the maximum of five) from the Hispanic Studies Program.

- Due to the implementation of new degrees, some of the courses below are subject to change.

- This list is just a summary of the classes that are taught at the University. For the full list please refer to:

http://www.upo.es/intl/Programas/PIU/oferta_de_cursos/index.jsp

- Please contact the International Center before making your final course selection or to obtain a course syllabus (jpasdia@admon.upo.es)

Humanities

1st Semester

- History and Culture of Contemporary Latin America (6020)
- Contemporary Spanish History (6023)
- Heritage Legislation and International Organization (6031)
- New Linguistic Disciplines in the Teaching of Spanish to Foreigners (6042)
- Ethnological Heritage (6048)
- Natural Heritage (6032)
- Town Planning (6050)
- Prehistory
- Medieval History
- History of Mediterranean Antiquity (301003)
- Grecolatin Culture through its Literary Texts (301001)
- Geography, Globalization and Sustainability (301019)
- History of Ancient and Medieval Art
- Current Trends in Philosophy (301020)
- From Medieval Times to the Renaissance (301048)
- Fundamentals of Contemporary History
- Introduction to Geography
- History of Europe and the World
- History of Latin America
- Contemporary Literature
- History and Culture of Contemporary Latin America
- Contemporary Art
- Archival Science
- Geography and Natural and Cultural Diversity: World Landscapes
- Classic Origins of Culture
- The Spanish Language. Normative Aspects (302001)

2nd Semester

- Psychology (6024)
- Documentation in Public Administration (6037)
- Digitilization, Reproduction and Computer Support (6038)
- Spanish for Specific Aims (6043)
- Literary Texts and the Teaching of Spanish (6044)
- Restoration Techniques (6049)
- The Geography of Andalusia (6051)
- Introduction to Social Anthropology (301017)
- Art in the Modern Age (301029)
- History of Philosophical and Scientific Thought (301018)
- Descriptive and Normative Aspects of Current Spanish
- The Structure of Christian and Islamic Societies (301015)
- Modern Literature (301031)
- Discourse, Culture and Society (301022)
- Archeology
- Medieval History
- Fundamentals of Modern History (301030)
- Classic Origins of Culture
- Ancient History
- History of Art
- Recent and Current World History
- Western Society of the Greco-Latin Basis
- Literature and Society
- Territories and Landscapes
- Analysis and Composition of Spanish Texts (302009)
- Varieties of Spanish (302074)

Business Administration

1st Semester

- Financial Management II (4038)
- International Finance I (4044)
- International Finance I (4093)
- International Strategy (4062)
- Strategic Accounting Management (4055)
- Introduction to Economics (501001)
- Introduction to Economics (501049)
- Economic History (501003)
- Economic History (501050)
- Mathematics for Business I (501003)
- Mathematics for Business I (501051)
- Business Economics (501004)
- Macroeconomics (501012)
- Macroeconomics (501060)
- Business Management Process (501014)
- Business Management Process
- Business Administration (501004)
- Business Administration (501052)
- Human Resource Management (501023)
- Human Resource Management
- Financial Accounting
- Marketing Management (502011)
- Marketing Management (502059)
- Intermediate Financial Accounting (502012)
- Intermediate Financial Accounting
- Business Statistics II (501013)
- Business Statistics II
- Advanced Financial Accounting (501021)
- Advanced Financial Accounting (501069)
- Financial Mathematics (501011)
- Financial Mathematics (501059)
- Management Accounting I (502025)
- Strategic Management (502023)

Students Comments:

Financial Planning 4042

"A very good professor. He is concerned about his students' understanding of the course material and explains everything clearly. If you still have problems, he is always willing to help."

Students Comments:

Communication Psychology 542

"This was a very interesting course. There was a lot of intercultural communication because there were students from 4 different countries."

University Integration Program (PIU)

2nd Semester

- Business Information Systems (4039)
- Valuation of Companies (4046)
- International Finance II (4048)
- International Accounting (4056)
- International Marketing (4063)
- International Human Resource Management (4064)
- International Human Resource Management (4096) 🇺🇸
- Analysis and Management of Electronic Business Projects (4071)
- Integrated Management Systems (4073)
- Database Management Systems (4074)
- Microeconomics (501006)
- Mathematics for Business II (501007)
- Business Statistics I (501008)
- Business Statistics I (501009) 🇺🇸
- Organizational Theory (501009)
- Organizational Theory (501057) 🇺🇸
- Introduction to Financial Accounting (501010) 🇺🇸
- Introduction to Financial Accounting (501049)
- The International Economy (501017)
- Applied Economics (201020)
- Applied Economics (501068) 🇺🇸
- Marketing Management I (501064)
- Financial Mathematics (501059) 🇺🇸
- Management Accounting (501076)
- Intermediate Financial Accounting (502012)
- Intermediate Financial Accounting (501067) 🇺🇸
- Analysis of Financial States (501026)
- Management Accounting (501028)
- Financial Markets (502026)
- Financial Statements Analysis (502076) 🇺🇸
- Financial Management (501075) 🇺🇸
- Statistical and Econometric Methods for Business (501066) 🇺🇸

Environmental Science

1st Semester

- Culture, Society and the Environment (203035)
- Fauna (203012)
- Microbiology (203013)
- Natural Risks (203026)
- Meteorology and Climatology (203014)
- Regional Planning (203022)

2nd Semester

- Geology (203006)
- Biology (203007)
- Ecology (203017)
- Flora and Vegetation (203011)
- Environmental Pollution (203028)
- Global Change (203050)
- Environmental Engineering (203016)

Sports Science

1st Semester

- Human Physiology (601003)
- Biomechanics (601011)
- Anthropology and Sociology of Physical Activity and Sports (601016)
- Fundamentals of Physical Education and Sports (601001)

2nd Semester

- The History and Theory of Physical Activity and Sports (601007)
- Physiology of Physical Activity (601016)
- Physical Activity and Health (601020)
- Psychology of Physical Activity and Sports (601011)

Social Work

1st Semester

- Fundamentals of the Functioning of Human Psychology (801002)
- Sociology I (801003)
- Community Social Work I (801011)
- Social Policy and Social Wellbeing (801012)
- Community Social Work I (801011)
- Individual and Family Social Work (801015)

Students Comments:

"I love the English/ Spanish tables! I made some great friends there that I hope to keep in touch with."

"Thank you so much for setting up this intercambio program. SUCH A GREAT IDEA!"

"Having an intercambio should be mandatory because it is one of the best ways to experience the culture and learn the language."

2nd Semester

- Social and Cultural Anthropology I (801006)
- Psychosocial Processes in Social Intervention (801010)
- Developmental Psychology of the Life Cycle (801019)
- Social Work and Services for People with Disabilities (801036)
- Social Work and Services with Children and Youth (801040)

Sociology

1st semester

- Social Psychology (802001)
- Conflict and Social Change (802012)
- General Sociology (802002)
- Social History and Contemporary Politics (802005)
- Basis for Sociological Research (802015)
- Community Psychology (802022)
- Sociological Theory I (802019)
- Economic Sociology (802024)

2nd semester

- Social Anthropology I (802009)
- Fundamentals of Social Work and Social Services (802018)
- Gender Relations and Equal Opportunities (802020)
- Political Sociology (802026)
- Work Sociology (802028)
- Social-educational Research and Intervention (802029)

Social Education

1st semester

- Didactics in Social Education (803001)
- Social Pedagogy. Social Education (803004)
- The Principles of Human Psychology (803005)
- Fundamentals of Sociology (803007)
- Anthropology of Education (803012)
- Social Education and Cultural Diversity (803011)
- Adult and Eldery Education (803023)
- Educative Action for Children and Youth (803017)
- Sociological Theory I (802019)
- Mediation and Conflict in Social Education (803039)

2nd semester

- Social Psychology (803006)
- Sociology of Education (803008)
- Pedagogical Fundamentals of Social Education (803003)
- Politics of Social Wellbeing (803010)
- Social Services (803013)
- The Design and Development of Social Education
- Intervention Programs and Projects (803020)
- Psychological Development in the Life Cycle (803016)
- Health and Quality of Life Education (803038)
- Social Intervention Ethics (803041)

Labor Relations

1st Semester

- History of Labor Relations (102002)
- Introduction to Labor Law (102011)
- Sociology of Work and Organizations (102013)
- Economy of Work (102012)
- Business Management (102004)
- Human Resource Management I (102021)
- Labor Risk Prevention (102025)
- Organization and Methods of Work (102016)

2nd Semester

- Business Law (10207)
- Theory of Labor Relations (102008)
- Psychology of Work and Organizations (102010)
- Conflict Management (102018)
- Fundamentals of Public Law
- Statistics (102009)
- System of Labor Relations (102014)
- Organizational Behaviour (102017)
- Human Resource Management II (102029)

Political Science

1st Semester

- Contemporary Political and Social History (103003)
- Political Institutions (103005)
- International Relations (103015)
- Political Theory (103024)
- Politics and Justice (103028)
- History of International Relations (103027)
- Political Economy (103001)

2nd Semester

- General Sociology (103006)
- History of Political and Social Movements (103007)
- Administrative Science I (103010)
- Political Sociology (103016)
- Public International Law
- Spanish Political System (103023)
- European Union Politics (103032)
- Human Rights and Democratic Values (103033)
- Spanish Foreign Policy (103036)

Law

1st Semester

- Philosophy of Law (101003)
- Roman Law (101004)
- European Union Law (101016)
- Mercantile Law (101013)
- Labour Law (101024)
- Financial Law (101026)

2nd Semester

- International Public Law (101009)
- The Spanish Judicial System (101010)
- The History of Law (101008)
- European Union Law (101016)
- Politics and Liberties of the European Union (101021)
- Human Rights and Democratic Values (101022)
- International Private Law (101030)

General Information

DATES *

	FALL 2013	SPRING 2014
Application deadlines	May 7, 2013	October 23, 2013
Semester starts	September 23, 2013	February 3, 2014
Semester ends	February 31, 2014	June 13, 2014
Final Exams:	January 20 - 31, 2014	June 2-13, 2014

* These dates are subject to change based on the University's official calendar

PROGRAM INFORMATION

Program fees for the 2013/2014 academic year	1.420€ (per semester)
Credit Hours and Transcripts:	Each class is worth 6 ECTS credits (3 U.S. credits) unless otherwise noted. Classes are held Monday through Friday. Transcripts are issued by Pablo de Olavide University.
Included in program	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> * Orientation Session & Welcome Reception * A maximum of 5 classes with Spanish students (or 4 + 1 class from the Hispanic Studies Program). * Social/cultural activities * Access to sports facilities (gym requires extra monthly fee) * Farewell Reception

HOUSING INFORMATION (Host family)

	FALL 2013	SPRING 2014
Housing costs / month	725€	745€
Included in housing	All meals and laundry services included. Please contact the Center for semester pricing information.

www.upo.es/intl

Universidad Pablo de Olavide
Centro Universitario Internacional
Ctra. de Utrera, Km 1
41013 Sevilla - SPAIN

Tel. +34 95 497 73 00
Fax: +34 95 434 90 96

www.upo.es/intl
intl@upo.es

UNIVERSIDAD
PABLO DE OLAVIDE
SEVILLA

